

BIBLICAL CHRISTIANITY TODAY

God says about Himself “I do not change. I am the same yesterday, today and forever”. We see true biblical Christianity in the book of Acts in the Bible. People loved God and loved one another. Biblical Christianity today should look the same as we see in the book of Acts, which sets forth clearly what God is looking for among Christians. God was pleased with what he saw and blessed that early church and its people.

The goal of my website is to help the confused and uninformed of today better understand what God is looking for in them, in the hope that some will seek Him out, and surrender their lives to Jesus. My website deals with various subjects from a biblical perspective.

Respectfully,

Fred Glover

(fredglover.com)