

GUARD YOUR CONSCIENCE AND FAITH

Friends of John Calvin tried to persuade him to give up his night studies. He asked if they wanted his Lord to come and find him idle. God forbid that death should find you lying in the puddle of some sin unconfessed and unrepented of! Can your hope then carry you to eternity with joy? Can a bird fly with a broken wing?

Faith and a good conscience are the two wings of hope. If you have wounded your conscience by sin, renew your repentance so that you may act in faith for the forgiveness of it, and redeem your hope. Remember, faith and a good conscience are the two wings of hope. Guard your hope.
