

HOW TO LIVE LIKE MOSES

God's beloved children must not loiter in the sunshine of divine love but keep moving their feet in the path of duty, because God has been so kind as to make our walk most full of cheer. But we must not lose our reverential fear of God in his familiarity with us. Moses is a good example. He spoke face to face with God. Yet his heart was never more filled with reverence of God.

God's pardoning mercy could not help but heighten his joy and overrun his soul with a sweet love to such a gracious God. Yet Moses's fear of God was not lost in the high tide of these precious affections. The Bible says Moses made haste, and bowed his head toward the earth, and worshipped. This favorite of heaven showed his fear of God most when God expressed his love to him most.
